E. Reports to Committee

1. PIMA COUNTY PEER LEARNING SITE VISIT

Presented by Colleen Clark-Bernhardt, CJC Coordinator

Discussion of the opportunity to complete a site visit of the Pima County, AZ crisis care continuum. This site visit was an opportunity through the National Association of Counties (NACo). Pima County is one of the national leaders in behavioral health and criminal justice. This provides crisis services, in addition to connection to other services. Law enforcement are able to connect people experiencing behavioral health crises to treatment quickly. Note that there are a lot of differences in government set-up and funding between Wisconsin and Arizona.

Discussion ensues. Differences in funding and structure of health services in counties.

2. DEBRIEF: CJC STAKEHOLDERS 1:1 MEETINGS WITH COORDINATOR

Presented by Colleen Clark-Bernhardt, CJC Coordinator

The CJC coordinator holds annual meetings with individual stakeholders to learn what they want from the CJC in the upcoming year. Council members report the benefits of the CJC including opportunities to collaborate, educate other council members, discuss data, and involve the community. Challenges include the disconnect between juvenile and adult data, the organization of voting vs. non-voting CJC members, and updating the dashboards.

CJC members request that subsequent meetings discuss a number of topics (see attached presentation). These include items pertaining to pretrial justice, behavioral health, racial disparities, length of stay, and connection to services. Current research covers many of these topics (see attached presentation). The CJC Research and Innovation team will subsequently survey CJC members on their priorities, discuss the results with the CJC Chair, and then further develop a proposed workplan in September 2022.

Discussion ensues regarding scope of county jurisdictions, particularly with DOC and Probation and Parole holds. There is additional interest in resource needs based upon the JFA Institute report.
