Celebrate Aging
DANE COUNTY HUMAN SERVICES, 2023

CALL FOR PARTICIPATION:
Dane County Human Services invites you to Celebrate Aging!

Calling all libraries, affinity groups, community and senior centers, volunteer programs, communities of faith, community members...

For the duration of 2023, Dane County Human Services will lead conversations about our community's aging population. We hope you will join us as we convene aging advocates and community leaders, share information about resources and services, and challenges of aging and caring for loved ones. We'll tackle ageism by exploring how older individuals in our community are significant drivers of our economy through gainful employment, volunteerism, philanthropy, childcare for their grandchildren, and so much more.

We invite you to propose a discussion or presentation topic, host a reading group, share and read personal stories of grandparents, parents, the sandwich generation, and more. Topics will include exploring our community's changing demographics, dementia, older adults volunteering in our community, county services, nutrition programming, and ADRC offerings, as well as your suggestions.

A constantly updated calendar of events will be on our website: www.dcdhs.com

Share and follow along on Instagram, @DaneCoHumanServices #CelebrateAging

"Aging isn't a problem to be solved. Or a disease to be cured.
Or something icky that old people do. It's how we move through life, and more of us are doing more of it than ever before in human history."
- Ashton Applewhite

To participate contact: DCDHS Communications Manager,
Tanya Buckingham 608-381-5225, buckingham.tanya@countyofdane.com