C. Public Comment on Items not on the Agenda

D. Discussion Items

1. Local market development.

- Phil Kauth from REAP -has been in meetings with Wello in Green Bay (a non profit working on community wellness, school lunches). They and Seasonal Harvest (a food aggregator) have set up a real good infrastructure/logistics setup. REAP looking into setting up a similar model based on their system. More generally, would like to look at other systems around the state, etc as models for our local market development.

- Fair Share CSA coalition has made a hire for supporting marketing and distribution for HMoob farmers. Originally a hire based on CSA development, but will be looking beyond just that method of distribution.

2. Land for cultivation - no major updates

3. Farmland Preservation

- City of Madison Task Force on Farmland Preservation established 9/6/22; goal for providing recommendations is 3/31/23 may be hard to meet

- Elected officers: Nan Fey, Chair; Allison Volk, Vice Chair; Rebecca Kemble, Secretary.

- Members: Also include Jeannette LeZaks (Sustainable Madison Committee), Mark Voss (urban farmer and regenerative real estate change agent), Eric Paulson (Alder from Plan Commission), Tag Evers (Alder), and Yimmuj Yang (Groundswell).

- Staffed by Jeff Greger of the Planning Division, Director Heather Stouder also attends.

- Regular visitors have been representatives of Brink Development and Smart Growth Madison who opposed formation of the task force.

- Meeting Schedule will be twice a month starting in January, second and fourth Wednesday afternoons from 3-4:30 dates are:

January 11 and 25, 2023

February 8 and 22

March 8 and 22

(April 12 and 26) if needed

(May 10 and 24) if needed

- Two meetings have been held to date, October 26 and November 9.

- Documents are being collected in Legistar 74519 Attachment #2 includes many important links of work done to date.

- Topics Identified for Discussion include: the City's Comprehensive and Sustainability Plans, RAFS ag lease recommendations, existing edible landscape and terrace ordinances, existing zoning categories, small parcels, general farmland survey, linking of affordable housing and land access, defining farmland preservation, issues of soil quality and contamination, looking at farmland preservation policies from other cities and communities, establishing evaluation metrics of success - farmers, demographics, policy impacts - among other things. See meeting minutes for more details.

- Meetings are virtual and public - Next meeting is Dec 14th at 3 PM to 4:30.

Would be good to see the development of this group, potential similar discussion at the county

Questions from Laura - Could you look at funding sources for urban agriculture, and are you looking at agroecological, sustainable frameworks for agriculture. Answers from Nan and Rebecca - not looking at funding, focusing on policy, at which point that may be a useful platform for policy. And may look at the sustainability plan from the city as a basis for the other question, along with a general survey of the agriculture which is currently going on.

4. Next projects brainstorming

- TESCH: May want to revisit ag leases issue - thinking about land use planning, length of lease, other ways to make it easier for small and diversified growers to lease from the city, encourage BMP in land the city leases. The land preservation task force may help focus on this

- LEETE: Support of land preservation task force? Rebecca Kemble - if the RAFS group wanted to support the work of this group with research and thinking about tasks, that would be helpful. But generally, may be a good way to say that this group would take on a piece. If there's willingness and capacity for that. Nan Fey - come to the meetings and pay attention to what we're doing. Marcia Caton Campbell: echo, but also want to acknowledge that the task force is specific to the City of Madison; other regional ag issues and land areas are related to but not directly addressed by the Task Force. Katherine Pedracine: How will task force and RAFS group be pertinent to the annexation of the town? Answer: RAFS covers the whole county already, the task force will cover the new land as part of the general policy, though the city has likely not included that new land in their full planning maps yet. Seemed like a good amount of support from the RAFS group

- Rebecca Kemble: Refocus on food sovereignty, as regional ag has gotten more of the attention lately

- Look back at list of ideas that were developed at creation of task force- anything we want to go back to? Would be good to come
