ITEM #10

CUP for seasonal storage of recreational vehicles in existing farm buildings in the A-2 zoning district
Joseph Rane, et.al., owners;
Blooming Grove 32

Background

Joseph Rane, James Rane and Leona Rane own a 5.42 acre parcel that was rezoned to A-2(4) under petition 6320, effective 11/15/1995 (former game farm use). The property has (2) existing horse barns and a 40' x 90' existing agricultural building with wellhouse. (The Rane residence is located on an adjacent CSM lot at the northwest corner of the property.) The Ranes wish to define a 2.04 acre area (not a separate parcel) at the northwest corner of the 5.42 acre parcel as the site for a Conditional Use Permit for:

"seasonal storage of recreational equipment and motor vehicles owned by private individuals other than those resident on the premises, this storage to be in existing accessory farm buildings. The storage of a dealer's inventory or the construction of any new buildings for storage shall be considered a commercial use..." as per Zoning Ordinance Section 10.126(3)(r).

The CUP area would include the 40'x90' ag building and adjacent outdoor grass-surfaced parking on the south (rear) and east sides of the ag building. These areas are screened from Libby Road by woods and an existing tree line along Libby Road.

The Ranes wish to use the existing ag building for indoor storage of boats and campers. Hours of operation would be by appointment only. As demand increases for expanded services (shuttling services, shrink-wrapping, etc.) additional hours of operation would be introduced... [The] plan is to be operational in the fall of 2001."

The Ranes mention "plans for adding additional storage as the need arises." This CUP allows such storage in "existing accessory farm buildings," so no new storage buildings may be built without rezoning to a commercial status.

Also note that the CUP language does not specifically mention outdoor parking or storage of recreational vehicles; it may be within the purview of the ZNR Committee to add such a Condition to a request for recreational vehicle storage in the A-2(4) district. Otherwise, a Conditional Use Permit for Limited Family Business or rezoning to C-2 Commercial would permit outdoor parking.
