II. Wisconsin Digital Equity Plan Approved

Jaron McCallum provided an update including that Wisconsin's plan was approved by the federal government. Sets state's strategy for digital equity. Following the plan's approval, Wisconsin will now receive between $24-$30 million for digital equity. Digital Equity plan is intended to work in tandem with BEAD.

Glazer inquired about what programs will be available with these funds. McCallum remarked that the intention is to reach those in the covered population as outlined in the plan. The focus will be more training, digital literacy, device access and less focus on subsidizing internet costs.

III. Broadband, Equity, Access, and Deployment (BEAD)

Jaron McCallum provided an update that one of the BEAD workshops will be rescheduled, and may be another opportunity for Task Force members to attend.

The state will develop a challenge process for what locations are and are not eligible for BEAD funds. McCallum encouraged members to look at the PSC map and let him know if there are issues with the data. He will notify the state of these issues.

Violante inquired about the timeline. McCallum responded that the PSC reconciliation is part of the 90-100 day challenge process, and provided an overview of that timeline.

Weil inquired if the EACAM areas will be included in BEAD. McCallum indicated they would not in an effort to not overlap funding streams. Weil inquired about how will people submitting corrections for the map know if they are included in the BEAD funding areas or not. McCallum indicated that the FCC broadband funding map will show if addresses are in an EACAM or RDOF area, and is happy to help with looking at the maps.

Wipperfurth inquired about a specific project in Windsor with UpNet. McCallum responded that he isn't aware of anything, but is happy to contact UpNet if that is requested. Violante inquired if Dane County highway is aware of this project, but Wipperfurth did not believe they were.

IV. Public Service Commission of Wisconsin Capital Projects Fund Broadband Infrastructure Grant Awards

McCallum provided an update that PSC awarded $43 million in funds to 30 applications out of the 124 that were submitted. The application that was submitted by two towns in Dane County was not selected.

V. Town of Perry/TDS Developments

McCallum has been meeting with people from the Town of Perry who have been having conversations with TDS and have been notified they will be building fiber in the Town of Perry and it will be fiber to the home. There is no specific timeline, but know that the EACAM program will run until at least 2028.

2. Updates/Comments from Task Force Members

F. Future Meeting Items and Dates

1. The next Broadband Task Force meeting with newly comprised membership will take place as soon as reasonably possible following the appointment process.

The next Broadband Task Force meeting will take place in a hybrid format.

Reconstituted Task Force will be appointed before the next meeting Task Force meeting will be scheduled.
