Revisions for 2018 Grant Process and Guidelines

The Council discussed revisions for the 2018 Grant Process and Guidelines. They noted that volunteer hours need to be the county's living wage amount and not other rates unless the volunteer is offering professional or skilled assistance that would deem a higher value per hour. Suggested that Habecker amend the example budget sheet to reflect current volunteer hourly rate and a sample professional rate with explanation.

Council will discuss use of funds for food. Should there be a cap on this amount or cap on per person attending? Additionally more thought and discussion is needed on use of funds for rental fees for tables, chairs, buses, facilities, portable toilets, etc to host events.

Another issue is timing of purchases. Some groups want to purchase equipment during sales times so can get more for their money. Sometimes as this year, this is problematic for especially Capital Equipment grants where they must wait until contracts are developed, and routed through county departments for approvals before funds can be used, often meaning a delay of two months. Another delay issue is for professional services, especially prairie burns that frequently need to take place when conditions are correct with small windows of time. This timeframe usually falls in March and April. Capital Equipment grants for professional services time delay in final approval makes this difficult if not impossible. Soellner who oversees DNR grant programs suggested using a "letter of retroactivity" for this cases where applicants could make purchases as needed and then get reimbursed if awards are made. This does not put the burden of payment on the county if the grants are not awarded or are only partially awarded, the non-profit would be responsible for the full payment. Soellner will send Habecker the letter the WDNR uses.

This discussion of revisions to the process and guidelines will be continued at the April 2017 meeting.

D. Presentations

Announcements

Habecker announced that the Nelson Institute Conference is on Tuesday, April 18th at Monona Terrace all day.

Pollinator Protection Update

Habecker stated that the Pollinator brochure is completed and 10,000 copies should be back from the printer tomorrow. Habecker got bids from 4 county printers. Wells was the only unionized print shop in the county. A bid was received from them but went with Park Printing Solutions in Verona with a bid that saved $400 when compared with the next lowest printer. Habecker is working on the display board design now that the display boards are purchased. Seed packet making kits are also being developed for check out. One kit is presently checked out. Habecker has begun contacting county parks about field demonstrations and signage and training opportunities and events. The project is steadily moving ahead. We will not be exhibiting this year at the Earth Day Conference, but this is a possibility for 2018 when all out materials are developed and check out systems are ready to go.
