2. COMMUNITY JUSTICE CENTER NEEDS ASSESSMENT PROJECT UPDATE (staff)

Report presented by Lisa MacKinnon. Review of presentation. Discussion of contract and partnership with Center for Court Innovation (CCI). There was a bureaucratic delay with the contract, but the project was launched on May 11th with slight adjustments in the timeline to account for the delay. CCI has assured us that they have the capacity to do the work on time. There are several steps for the needs assessment, including quantitative and qualitative data analysis and community engagement with the public and through the pre-engagement groups. CCI is conducting stakeholder interviews and initial data analysis now and will present summary of preliminary draft findings and recommendations to CJC on June 24th. Emphasis on public engagement events in July, with general public and focus groups. CCI will use this information to focus on different elements of existing community justice centers to determine the best option for Dane County. CCI will revise its findings and recommendations and present a summary of its final report at the CJC's August 26th meeting.
