In addition to receiving a report about the site, the committee voted to reduce from six to five meetings in 2019 due to the difficulty of reaching a quorum in August in past years. Kretschman read aloud an entry from her journal written the day after the October board meeting, when members shared their personal backgrounds and what motivated them to serve on the board, and displayed a container of washcloths knitted by her 101-year-old mother. Kretschman stated her mother lived in her own home well into her 90s and that she feels it would be beneficial for members to hear one inspiring aging-related story at each meeting. Kilmer volunteered to provide the story at the December meeting.

Kretschman reported she attended West Madison Senior Center's open house on 1 November 2018 celebrating its new location at 5724 Raymond Road.

AAA Manager Cheryl Batterman reported work continues on the 2019-2021 Dane County Aging Plan, which must be delivered to the Wisconsin Bureau of Aging and Disability Resources by 31 December 2018. Results of an online survey soliciting feedback from community members will be shared with board members. 146 responses were submitted.

Batterman reported Bill Hanna, Fiscal & Management Services Division Administrator for the Dane County Department of Human Services, announced his resignation effective 18 December 2018. Batterman and Velasquez commended Hanna for making major improvements during his tenure.
