C. Action Items

D. Presentations

1. Update on Certified Domestic Violence Offender Treatment and New Department of Corrections Protocol - Marlys Howe

Howe gave a brief history of certified DV treatment. Recently DOC began working with the University of Cincinnati to create a certified batterers treatment program with an evaluation process. Howe explained the Judges' current practices and noted that some programs are cost prohibitive, some have waiting lists and some people refuse supervision/treatment and just do jail time. Judges won't extend supervision just so a person can get treatment if they are on a wait list and there is no treatment option while incarcerated. Crowley suggested getting Judges thinking about treatment programs for juveniles who have witnessed DV.
