J McLellan, Dane County Emergency Management and Ed Ruckriegel, City of Madison Emergency Management Coordinator

J McLellan – reviewed procedures Dane County uses to plan for excessive heat and excessive cold events. Participating agencies in emergency preparedness include homeless shelter providers, Red Cross, municipal governments, first responders, United Way 2-1-1, Salvation Army.

County and City role to facilitate during an emergency, maintain situational awareness, and help coordinate existing resources.

Ed Ruckriegel - City of Madison created plans, beginning in 2005, intended to go hand in hand with County planning efforts and not be duplicative. City is adding a position in its Emergency Operation Centers for Community Services (filled by current Community Development Director, Jim O'Keefe).

During recent power outage on 7/19, individuals experiencing homelessness were top of mind. Contingency planning took place, in partnership with providers, to determine where individuals in need of overnight shelter would go in the event those shelters were not available.

Discussion of Project Recovery resource for those impacted by 2018 flooding and challenges identified by that program in finding individuals who may need counseling.

Discussion of communication procedures during excessive heat or cold event to reach vulnerable populations.

2. 2018 Eviction Report Statistics: Casey Becker, Dane County Human Services

Report presented. Suggestion to retool the report format and merge it with information from the Dane County Affordable Housing Development awards to get a bigger picture from the data. Staff will revise report and re-send to committee members when complete.

1. Update on HUD Continuum of Care (CoC) Federal Funding Process

2. Quarter 2 Update on The Beacon Day Resource Center

The Beacon served 1,443 unduplicated individuals and 406 families in quarter 2 of 2019. Staff helped 31 individuals obtain housing. Housing referrals were the most requested referral (74), followed by Employment and Training services (49) and AODA services (49). Other referrals included legal services (37), Medical (38), social security (46), and referrals to other services (32).

The Beacon is hosting three summer AmeriCorps VISTA volunteers – one individual to help with volunteer development, one to help connect guests to health insurance, and one to organize summer outings for guests in the family area.

The Beacon will begin a new rapid-resolution program this summer to help people avoid the shelter system and find housing. WIC is also on-site connecting families with resources. A new volunteer coordinator, Lynn Currie, has started her work to build volunteer capacity. Beacon staff and other agencies in the community were extremely helpful during the 7/19 power outage in helping guests find alternate locations to escape the heat during the day.
